The 18th issue of Access the Akashic covered the truth of the Voynich. It was found in 1912, therefore it was after Madame Blavatsky passed away, so she did not see it. There is no reason to doubt that she probably had an idea that an Necronomicon was out there floating around Europe somewhere, but it is not essential to this second look.

I studied the fact sheet (Elegant Enigma) on the Voynich completely before attempting clairvoyance upon it. This had benefits in itself. The document covers a broad range of occultism and magic surrounding the era in which it was supposedly composed. Unfortunately these topics have an initiatory aspect to them, therefore they seem to be something to the outsiders that to the initiates they are almost the opposite in reality. With that being said, I found out that John Dee had nothing to do with the Voynich at all, neither did Roger Bacon. But to the outsider, it would make sense that because it was a “magic or alchemical” document, that Bacon or Dee were somehow involved—which necessarily was not the case, in reality.

Madame Blavatsky would have had an interest in the Voynich, had it been discovered (or re-discovered) in the late 1870s but she may or may not have had the time to give it a whole lot of thought. She would have most likely recognized the “Necronomicon” upon seeing it or shortly thereafter. It is indeed a thing of astonishment and wonder, even to the white magician of Theosophical leanings such as herself.

I did not dare to jump into the clairvoyance of this book at first, mainly because I wanted a thorough approach to the background study (Elegant Enigma, namely). This was a rewarding experience in itself and highly recommended. It may start an interest in alchemy, magic, occultism, or history of the same in the young mind. Generally speaking, it is only a one in several million people who would even attempt any sort of ritualistic working associated with such a document such as the Voynich. In this regard, it is “okay” to release the more refined knowledge of what it actually says, what it was used for and how we, the occultists, can protect the world from its black usage.

In occultism, gnosticism and magic (ie Theosophy), many times things that appear to be sinister or dark are in fact the other way around and vice versa. This is an early aspect of the proper initiation into non-ceremonial magic. It will be discovered by the newbie along the portion of the path that is initiatory to say the least. The reason that the Voynich was so misunderstood for so long, is because none of the possible personages thought to be associated with it were actually associated with it. As a matter of fact, the infamous hieroglyphic book of Edward Kelley and John Dee, probably had little to nothing to do with the Voynich whatsoever. Quite frankly, John Dee is given more credit than he deserves. He was a decent astrologer, a dabbler in occult/magic but had no clairvoyant abilities and enochian magick is a dangerous, erroneous system, not directly related to the Voynich at all. As you can see, it is possible to be duped by the esoteric nature of John Dee and his (non)involvement with the Voynich, etc. Maybe there was a possibility that Dee was involved in moving the document to Rudolph. If that was the case, he did not know anything about it because he wasn't clairvoyant and not an actual occultist, more of an astrologer.

This second-look at the Voynich is intended to clear up some frustration about the nature of occultism in this 21st century. The Voynich is genuinely not as important as it is being made out to be. In other words, if the Voynich was an esoteric document containing secrets of space-travel or multi-dimensional worlds (as the illustrations would like the novice to believe), then it may have grand importance to the development and progress of many areas of human knowledge. Since that was a possibility from the beginning, many investigators were hopeful that it would be decoded and in fact be the illustrious dream of imagination that the inquisitors thought was possible with it. However, as with many types of satanic and/or sorcerous works of text, the grand design is one of ultimate misinformation.

I am happy that I eventually clairvoyantly uncovered the terrifying secret of the Voynich. I looked through the fact sheet (Elegant Enigma) and did minor readings on each topic because at first this seems like the most confusing set of data regarding one work. It seemed incredibly daunting to be thorough and not come up short in info. Sure I was motivated by a sense of “fame” if one were to actually decode something of this magnitude and other people have been motivated similarly. Now looking back, notwithstanding the reason for ATA zine to be released free, is that sometimes the ego has desires that are a driving force, but in truth do not have much form in and of themselves. It is merely the frustration in the conscious element of humanity regarding this work that I have personally wanted to contribute to the wholesome and fearless understanding of it. We may never know all the miniature details of forgotten history from hundreds of years ago, but is that truly important or essential to our progress in spiritual or mystical life? Looking back on my notes (about 50 handwritten pages) I can say that most of the ideas surrounding Voynich and potential histories are not necessary or add up to much in regards to its true meaning.

If any readers have any historical names, concepts, or deep questions that may seem unanswered and not covered by the occult investigation into this topic, please contact soon with your question. In other words, if you think a topic from Elegant Enigma was brushed over and not considered, feel free to write.

THE ACCURSED VOYNICH IS ALSO KNOWN AS “THE GATE OF EVERLASTING SUICIDE”
It won't be decoded because the keys are lost and only an actual black magician (sorcerers are one thing and black magicians another) would even be idiotic enough to consider going near!

Mars Tubes – First Reading. Note: The Martian Archaeology and Ancient Sites/Anomalies are more curious than anything we've seen, but we do not even know everything about our own Earth, let alone Mars! This is the reason I have taken clairvoyance about Mars, another planet, albeit a close one to Earth, with mysteries beyond comprehension, with baby steps. This analysis of the famed tubes on Mars, goes back a couple years or so and I present what I found, unaltered.

Let it be known, that the tubes on Mars were seen by telescope in the late 1800's or early 1900's and A.P. Sinnett mentions them as being pipes. In our times, people want things extremely factual and detailed, but in the late 1800's they had less “factual” information and used their minds to extend the possibility of a reality unknowable, except through the thoughts and imagination. I feel distraught at the stage we are in, because we are presented with tremendous amounts of “facts” from space and cannot necessarily come upon a universal agreement on the truth. We may blame authorities for lying, but they would not be able to lie to a questioning and truth-seeking population anyways, and so one goes with the other. Here is a photo of the tubes:

These tubes were one of the very first anomalies, long before the community of anomaly hunters had come about. My first and only reading thus far, said that the white lines are ice. It said that this is a water aqueduct for drinking. They get the water for it from deep down in the well. You will get punished if you go near it. It is for their subscribers only. They clean it. It is a business. Millions of gallons of water are being pumped to the colonies. It is a major source of income. Some how its construction was tied to the completion of a war. It runs day and night. This ends my notes on the initial reading. As with any reading of an absolutely unknown topic, there will be other facts coming about that also have to be corroborated in subsequent, further readings. If this reading is incorrect, so be it...that is part of the game. If it is 100% on target, that is good and it will check through down the line on further investigations into these details, if needed. This makes it clear that any proper reading will raise more questions than initially given. Many people have offered their theories as to what these tubes could be and these ideas have run the possibilities up and down the entire spectrum. Another popular theory was that these are the transportation tunnels. In giving the reading to the world, I am offering a possibility that may be checked by other clairvoyants who have knowledge of Reasoning in the Socratic sense, so that we may be cooperative in our efforts and ultimately begin to understand some hidden truths. A planet like Earth or Mars has millions of years of history. Our own history has been fabricated and indoctrination had occurred without the masses freely questioning its validity. Because of the long term effect of this “dumbing-down,” the subconscious current of our day is burdened with demonic energy and entirely materialistic skepticism. Access the Akashic may have to dodge this lack of interest by promoting a free-thinking viewpoint, in terms of H.P. Blavatsky, in that free-thought, theosophy and occultism and the emerging pseudo-sciences (as they may be called) will help a select few who can maintain the enlightenment energies of the planet while things shift in our cultural landscape, in the midst of a chaotic time-frame of post-modernity.

I hope to find out more about who runs this water subscription service, although I think it is a race of human-like aliens from another system who protect the interests of Mars from potential threat, ie alien races of subversive nature who may wish to destroy the globe itself or run it for their own self-serving against the Great Brotherhood (it includes sisters too :) Wondering about where or who the colonies are inhabited by...if it is dwarf-like, sex-crazed Martians or other ET Humans of highest intelligence that co-inhabit the planet until things improve there. At this point it will have to be left at that. But because we lack the very basic background information, readings can come in at some strange levels, this being the least strange when compared to Four-Armed Reptilians living in Cairns on the surface, it becomes very difficult to want to release the findings until several checkings can be done.

Lord Lytton is one of the great occultists and living legends of the Madame Blavatsky lineage. I hope to investigate more about him soon. Let me tell you what I saw.

Lord Lytton during his life, found the entrance to the subterranean Inner Earth. Ancient Sages live there. He was underground for three weeks in the cold and damp. There's someone down there! The reading comes to a close abruptly. I am aware that Lytton is a genuine living spirit and close to Blavatsky in knowledge and spiritual equality. This magazine will hopefully cover more of this man and his undisclosed researches into Inner Earth and other research.

People say the Devil in Tarot is Baphomet. They are similarities and probably a similar root, but the Devil – 15th Card of the Tarot – is not called Baphomet but his or her name was “Bath.” So maybe, Bath is related to Baph of Baphomet as many concurrent themes in occult history commonly occur to be philologically related. The Tarot was discovered by Marco Polo. He may have had a female assistant on his journeys. Gyaurla was the place of discovery of the wooden tablets of “ROT” as the Mongolian hierarchy had called it. We have most of the cards. Marco Polo had to high-tail it out of there, back in those times it was not a safe area to proceed. This area of Turkmenistan is a place of mystical antiquity as is known, and who else would have brought the Tarot into European card making besides Marco Polo? He was a genius.

The other various names of the Devil in Christian thought also may have ancient sacred roots, as has been pointed out by a few writers on the misnomer of the Devil's name. In Gnosticism and other “poly” or rather Pan-theistic realities and religions, devil, seth, sath, satan, are all just various aspects of the duality of nature and the Godhead of oriental kabalism. Do not forget that every Major Arcana is Sacred. This indicates that the Devil is also Sacred, even though this card may indicate absolute materialistic energy and various lower spirits of many kinds, it does not mean that those properties are un-sacred. Everything is sacred to the occultist, except that form of Ignorance that creates a demon of good and a demon of evil that battle each other instead of dwell inside the mirror of self and that on many levels before and after initiatory proceedings (now many are lost to modernity—worldwide).
